At the annual business meeting of the Red Cross society last Friday, 20 of the 302 members were present. Reports were read and officers elected. A letter had been received from headquarters, expressing very satisfactory appreciation of the garments previously sent from Cabot. A box was packed containing two dozen socks, one and one-half dozen wristlets, five dozen scarfs and six pajamas. The contents were valued at $42. Since the first of June the ladies have made and sent to Burlington, garments valued at $81, garments given to drafted men valued at $825, sent to Burlington $24, pajamas, garments sent to Boston 117, comfort bags 36, comfort bags to drafted men four, number of branch meetings 19, executive committees 10. This money has nearly all been collected from the several schools in town by the school children and their efforts in this work are highly appreciated. Several books have been donated. The society meets every Friday afternoon at the Red Cross rooms. As the days are so much shorter than in the summer, it will be very agreeable to those having the matter in charge if the ladies will gather as soon as convenient after 1 p. m. The penny collection last Friday amounted to 63 cents. St. Johnsbury has just cause to be proud of its $1,000 auction for war relief work, yet it can hardly be No. 1, as Cabot branch, Red Cross, held a very successful auction Sept. 4.
